

This is the second year that Irving Art Association has sponsored a juried exhibition devoted solely to photography. 25 works from 12 photographers are in the exhibit October 30 - November 21 at the Jaycee Park Center for the Arts.

The show was curated by Terry Cockerham. Awards were selected by the jurors: Jim Olvera and Douglas D. May. IAA would like to thank all for their participation.

The Reception & Awards Ceremony was held on Sunday, November 11th, from 2-4pm. Reception photos will be posted soon on the IAA Photo Album.

JUDGE PANEL

Jim Olvera:

Born in Harlingen, photographer Jim Olvera is a sixth-generation Texan who grew up in Oklahoma City. He attended college at Washington University in St. Louis, where he first studied engineering and architecture, but finding those disciplines too confining, he altered his path in the middle of his junior year to become the university's first photography major. After graduation he moved to Dallas. He has taught at both SMU and TCU, and given numerous lectures and seminars on the subject of photography. His work has been exhibited in many solo and group shows and is included in the Permanent Collection of the Library of Congress.

Douglas D. May:

Douglas D. May has been a design communication professional for close to four decades. Educated at the University of North Texas and Art Center College of Design, he began his career in New York where he trained under several prominent designers and art directors. He received his Master of Fine Arts degree from Texas A&M Commerce in 2017 and now teaches full-time at The University of North Texas. He founded the Dallas-based design firm May & Co. in 1986 and continues to consult with corporations, entrepreneurs, and non-profits by providing design communication to support strategic initiatives. In 2011, Doug was honored as an AIGA Fellow for his professional contribution to the North Texas design community.

CURATOR

Terry Cockerham:

While Terry was in the military, he took up photography as a hobby. After leaving the military and refining his skills, he then worked for five years at UT Southwestern Medical School as a medical photojournalist during the day while simultaneously teaching photography classes for adults in the evening at one of the local junior colleges. Terry also took on medical illustration for a time as his vocation. Mr. Cockerham now works as a free-lance photographer, and focuses on art photography.

Curator's Note:

I have juried and judged several shows, but this is the first show where I have been responsible as Curator. I must admit that is a much more pleasant task to simply admire the creativity of the work than it is to make critical selections, and the work in this show is quite creative.
